

Moving Forward in 2025: Medical Malpractice Attorneys

The past year has presented numerous challenges for Medical Malpractice Attorneys because of the competitive nature of the industry.

Integrity Media can help Medical Malpractice Attorneys reach potential clients and drive conversions by running highly-targeted advertising campaigns. Use Integrity Media's precise audience targeting to efficiently reach relevant users across all of their devices, and take advantage of Integrity Media's granular reporting to measure campaign performance.

Reach Consumers with Precise Audience Targeting

Reaching the right consumers is crucial to the success of attorneys. In order to improve client retention rates, recruit new clients, and increase billable time, it's more important than ever to maximize advertising efficiencies. Attorneys of all sizes can greatly benefit from Integrity Media's precise audience targeting methods:

Search Retargeting: Retarget users who are searching for keywords related to legal information and specific fields of law. For example, a medical malpractice attorney could use terms such as "legal malpractice," "attorneys medical" "malpractice suits," "medical negligence," "hospital negligence," and more.

Keyword Contextual: Retarget users who are reading webpages that feature terms related to lawyers and their areas of specialty. For example, a medical malpractice lawyer could use keyword contextual terms such as "surgery accident" "malpractice," "malpractice cases," "malpractice lawyers," and more.

Category Contextual: Reach users on websites that feature content related to relevant legal disciplines. For example, a medical malpractice attorney could target contexts such as “medical law,” “medical neglect,” and “medical injury” to reach users who are reading content about injury and legal information.

Addressable Geo-Fencing: Target address lists to reach potential consumers at the household-level. For example, target the addresses of users who purchased a product that is now part of a class action lawsuit, and recruit them to join the suit. If you do not have a relevant address list, build your own custom addressable audience with Integrity Media’s Addressable Audience Curation tool. Choose from over 700 demographic factors, and filter your audience using location details such as postal codes, metros, states, or congressional districts. For example, a corporate law firm could target the owners of for-profit businesses in the construction industry that have over $10 million in assets and are located within the same metro as the law firm.

Geo-Fencing: Reach individuals who are actively visiting areas where you may find your target audience. Draw custom, precise shapes around these locations to capture users and retarget them with variable recency for up to 30 days. For example, a labor and employment law firm could draw target fences around unionized businesses to reach employees who may need legal advice.

Site Retargeting: Retarget users who visit your website to encourage them to return to your website to submit a consultation request.
